DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

(i) a system, apparatus, computer program product and/or method, for enhancing a printed color image as perceived by a human viewer. The image is composed of a plurality of superimposed regular dot-patterns upon a planar surface. Each dot pattern has a fixed spatial frequency in a first direction and another fixed frequency in a second direction perpendicular to the first direction. Each one of the patterns is monochromatic and different in color from that of each of the other patterns. One of the regular dot patterns is intentionally misregistered with respect to another of the patterns in directions only parallel to and perpendicular to the first direction.

(ii) a system, apparatus, computer program product and/or method, for enhancing a printed color image as perceived by a human viewer. The image is composed of a plurality of superimposed regular dot patterns upon a portion of a movable curved surface having two orthogonal spatial dimensions and having curvature in only one of those dimensions. At least one of said regular dot patterns is misregistered with respect to at least one of other said patterns in directions only parallel to and perpendicular to a first direction.

The dot patterns are comprised of a plurality of dots being randomly positioned on said surface in only one of said dimensions and being regularly positioned along the other of said dimensions.

(iii) a system, apparatus, computer program product and/or method, for enhancing a printed color image as perceived by a human viewer. The image being composed of a plurality of superimposed regular dot patterns upon a planar surface, each one of said patterns being monochromatic and different in color from that of each other of said patterns. At least one of said regular dot patterns is misregistered with respect to at least one of other said patterns in directions only parallel to and perpendicular to a first direction.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

2. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
